CHAS. W. DUDROW, Prop

HE JUST WALKED IN,

Told Her He Was Going to Kill Her, Pulled a 44 and Blazed Away—She Still Lives.

Emilio Gutierrez, aged about 30, is a man with original ideas of one's duties in life, and the fact that such ideas may be at variance with commonly accepted notions of law and order, cut no more ice with him than legal processes did with Boss McKane, of Gravesend, N. Y., when he told the officers, "Injunctions don't go here." The festive Emilio loaded up yesterday afternoon with copious draughts of mescal and tequila, and then concluded to put some of his ideas into practical action. He met Justice Garcia near the Guadalupe church, and remembering that the justice had given him three months in the hospital some time previous, thought to even up by hauling off and pasting the official in the left eye. The result is that the official's optic today resembles a chunk of raw beef. Then before the justice could have the fellow taken care of, the latter skipped down to near Dr. Harroun's ranch, and entered the adobe of Juana de Sedillos, without any knocking preliminaries. Mrs. Sedillos' 18-year-old daughter Francisca chanced to meet Emilio first, and without further ado, he said, "I have come to kill you," and "killing a murderous Remington 44 six-shooter, aimed it straight at her and pulled the trigger. The gun went off all right, but Emilio was too drunk to aim straight even at that short range, and the bullet fortunately missed the girl, though by only three or four inches. However, her left arm was badly burned by the powder. In the confusion and screaming which immediately followed, the wretch escaped, only to be arrested later by Constable Anaya. A gang tried to jump the officer and rescue the would-be murderer, when Deputy Sheriff Huber came to his rescue, and Gutierrez went to jail in short order. The prisoner pleaded guilty this morning before Justice Garcia, and owned up that he had intended to kill the girl, and expressed no contrition at all for his deed. He was bound over in $2,000 for assault with intent to kill, to await the action of the grand jury. He was also held in $500 bonds to keep the peace for six months, for striking the justice. Not having bondsmen, Emilio went to jail, where he will no more shooting.

Emilio Gutierrez has the reputation of being a worthless fellow who has made it a habit to pack a big gun around with him and "shoot up the country" whenever he felt so disposed.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. B. O. Greene, of Ashland, Ky., has removed to Albuquerque to reside.

Rev. Arthur Marston, of Eureka Springs, Ark., is the new Methodist minister at Roswell.

F. J. Kneeland, of Boston, is a tourist through the country, and registered last night at the Palace.

Rev. T. C. Moffat, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Raton, has resigned to accept a Portland, Ore., pulpit.

Edmund Wright, Jr., an attorney from Philadelphia, is out in this country on legal business, and is a guest at the Palace.

Chief Clerk W. E. Kreuger, of the D. & R. G., and wife, returned north this morning to Denver after an enjoyable trip to this city.

Miss Lazear, of Denver, daughter of the state insurance commissioner, returned north this morning over the D. & R. G. after a pleasant stay in this city.

J. M. Hoffman and wife, of New York, arrived last night from the east and registered at the Palace. Mr. Hoffman is afflicted with locomotor ataxia, and went up this morning with Mrs. Hoffman to Ojo Caliente, where he expects the springs will give him relief. They will remain there during the winter.

Hon. Solomon Luna, Republican national committee man from New Mexico and one of the leading sheep men of the southwest, was in the city today on political business. He reports that Valencia county, in his opinion, will give a heavy Republican majority and that Bernalillo county is good for a fair Republican majority. He left for his home at Los Lunas this afternoon.

From Camp Hamilton, Ky., comes the news that Second Lieutenant John W. Catron will likely be promoted to the vacancy caused by the promotion and transfer of Lieutenant C. C. Cruikshank from Captain Fall's company to the medical department of the 1st territorial regiment of volunteers. Lieutenant Catron is highly recommended as a capable, bright and energetic young officer and as one of the best duty lieutenants in the regiment. This promotion, it is understood, recommended by Colonel McCord, will prove very good and proper and will be greatly appreciated by the people of Santa Fe, where the young lieutenant is well and favorably known.

Captain Max Luna is in Raton today and will address the voters of that city on the political issues of the day this evening. He will go to his home at Los Lunas tomorrow, where he will spend election day. It is very likely that within the next few months the young captain may be named for an important position on the military staff of Brigadier General Wood, now commanding the military district at Santiago de Cuba.

Mrs. Max Luna, who, by the way, is a very charming and vivacious young lady, is now here with her husband's grandmother.

Mrs. B. G. Wilson, wife of the popular representative of the Continental Oil Company in New Mexico, of Las Vegas, has engaged apartments at the Palace hotel and will arrive in the city tomorrow evening for a visit with friends. Captain A. J. Duncan, of Washington, special agent for the Indian office of the Interior department, is still in the city attending to business connected with the Indian schools in the territory, and will remain several days longer.

Associate Justice John R. McPike expects to go to Las Vegas tonight to open United States court there on Monday. In the absence of Chief Justice Mills, who was called east yesterday by the sudden death of his mother.

Mrs. Roy Fugate, daughter-in-law of Conductor and Mrs. Fugate, is still in the city and is enjoying her visit very much. She will join her husband in El Paso the first of the coming week.

Hon. A. H. Burke, formerly governor of North Dakota and now special agent for the Interior department, expects to leave for the Pacific coast the latter part of next week, after a pleasant stay of two weeks in Santa Fe, spent in inspecting the different offices of the land department in the city.

Mrs. R. E. Twitchell is in St. Joseph, Mo., where she will remain for a year or more under medical treatment, this attitude being too high for her health. Her young son, Waldo Twitchell, is with his mother and attending school in St. Joseph.

Mr. Wilson Waddingham expects to spend a good deal of his time hereafter in New Mexico, making his headquarters in Las Vegas. Mrs. Waddingham and the three children will also be with him much of the time.

Charles Catron is now a student at the University of Chicago and is doing well.

Miss Mamie Waldo, daughter of Judge and Mrs. H. L. Waldo, is in New York attending a young ladies' institute and finishing her education.

Right after election Mrs. T. B. Catron expects to go to Chicago, where she will remain for several weeks for the benefit of her health.

Judge H. L. Waldo has gone to Kansas City, where he will remain for the next six weeks or more.

Robert W. Allen, an archeological expert, arrived last night from the Canon of the Colorado river, and continued northward this morning. Mr. Allen has for years been a guide and investigator among the remains of the cliff dwellers along the Colorado river, and furnished the famous mustached mummy over six feet tall to Professor Talmage, of Utah university. He has also furnished relics to eastern institutions of learning. He says there is a good deal of placer mining going on in that country, and that there is lots of room for more locators. Mr. Allen furnished quite a stock of mummies to the world's fair at Chicago.

Rev. C. C. McLean, D. D., formerly pastor of the largest church auditorium in the Methodist Episcopal denomination in the world, located in Los Angeles, Calif., visited this city in the interest of data for his press writings and lectures. He is now an agent of the Sunday school union of his denomination. His residence is now in Philadelphia, Pa. En route here he visited the Grand canon of Arizona, petrified forests and Indian villages. He left Philadelphia September 9, visiting Chicago, St. Louis, Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Portland, Ore., the Shasta route to San Francisco and coast line of the Southern Pacific railroad to Los Angeles, Calif.; from there via Santa Fe route. His lectures are delivered in the east during the winter. They are illustrated by stereoscopic views and highly descriptive and entertaining to his large audiences. He hopes to interest the people that many more tourists will visit New Mexico.

H. F. Alps, who has been the assistant in the Santa Fe weather bureau the past three months, leaves tonight for Nashville, Tenn., having been transferred to the weather office in that city. His place will be filled by F. L. McClintic, who comes from Nashville. Mr. McClintic is accompanied by his wife, who is an invalid, and they have taken rooms at the sanitarium.

Hon. Silas Alexander, the popular district attorney of the 5th judicial district, came in from Socorro last night and made a pleasant call at this office. He has just returned from a campaign tour of Socorro and Sierra counties, and recorded himself as well pleased with the outlook for Republican success in these counties. Mr. Alexander expected to return south this morning.—Albuquerque Citizen.

Thomas J. Curran, of Albuquerque, who is the successful and reliable special agent of the Equitable Life Assurance Association for New Mexico, returned last evening from a very successful business trip for that first class and reliable company from northern points. He was the guest of Hon. and Mrs. Amado Chaves and left this afternoon for his Albuquerque home.

Mr. George R. Baucus, of Hermosa, will be here in about 10 days on a visit to his wife and boy, who are guests of Hon. and Mrs. Amado Chaves. From here he will go to Boston for a short visit, partly on business and partly to see his mother, residing there.

In connection with the sale of home made delicacies held on Saturday, October 15, the W. B. T. raffled off their two dolls, which were drawn by Marion Cartwright and Mrs. E. J. Bishop.

United States Marshal Foraker and Deputy United States Marshal J. J. Sheridan left this afternoon for Grant county, where they will remain over election day and vote.

Miss Ada Gunn, sister of Mrs. Lars Larson, who has been at the Montezuma for the past year and a half, is visiting her many friends in the city before leaving for her home in Chicago.

Solicitor General Edward L. Bartlett has returned from a trip to Las Vegas on legal business.

Indian Agent N. S. Walpole has gone to Pueblo, where he will vote, that being his legal residence.

Hon. L. A. Hughes left this morning for Denver on a short business trip and expects to return home on Monday night.

Hon. and Mrs. Bernard Seligman are expected to return home from Philadelphia and New York during the coming week.

Frank W. Clancy, Esq., and Mrs. Clancy are in Washington, D. C., where Mr. Clancy is attending to several cases pending in the Supreme court of the United States.

Mrs. W. L. Jones who has been visiting friends in Denver for a month, is expected to return home early during the coming week.

Lieutenant W. E. Griffin and Arthur Griffin who served in Cuba with the Rough Riders, are convalescent from their severe attack of malarial fever contracted, while exposed to the Cuban climate and to the hardships of the campaign.

Mrs. J. B. Mayo and children are now with Mr. Mayo at Golden, and will likely spend the winter in southern Santa Fe county, where Mr. Mayo is engaged in extensive mining operations, which are turning out very successfully.

made a most excellent record while in charge of the military telegraphing cable service and signal corps in Cuba and Puerto Rico during the American-Spanish war.

George Marsh, formerly connected with the New Mexican staff, has been confined to his home on Manhattan street the past week by illness, having been threatened with pneumonia. Happily he is now better today, that he confidently expects to be able to return to Bland to look after his gold mining property there, immediately after the pending election.

MINOR CITY TOPICS.

There were 77 drunks in the city jail last month.

U. S. weather bureau forecast for New Mexico: Fair tonight and Sunday.

Mr. Kaufman, traveling man for A. Staub, went north this morning on business.

A. D. Allison, a Kansas City traveling man, is registered at the Claire while in the city.

Charles T. Springer, of Denver, is a guest at the Claire while on business in this city.

W. A. Lewis, representing a St. Louis firm, is in town on business and located at the Claire.

J. C. Wheeler, a traveling man from Detroit, is in town on business and is stopping at the Claire.

C. E. Peoples, of Springfield, is in town for a day or two on business, and is registered at the Exchange.

Robert Corkish, representing a Pueblo candy house, came down last night and registered at the Palace.

L. H. Darby, representing a Denver candy firm, came over last night on business and registered at the Palace.

Superintendent J. P. McNulty, of the turquoise mines, is up from the mines on business and is to be found at the Exchange.

The rush of work on the Santa Fe lines in this territory is unprecedented. The latest fad in ladies' attire is the Roosevelt shirt waist.

J. P. Goodlander, representing the Meyer Drug Company, is in town stocking up the local pharmacists, and is registered at the Claire.

W. J. Danaher is a Chicago young man in search of health, registered at the Exchange. He will go to southern California to spend the winter.

Private Frank Dittelbach, of G company, territorial regiment, has just had a good likeness of himself taken, standing in front of his tent, which he sends to his folks in this city.

Yesterday, the thermometer at the local weather bureau registered as follows: Maximum temperature, 59 degrees, at 3:30 p. m.; minimum, 36, at 5:00 a. m. The mean temperature for the 24 hours was 48 degrees; mean daily relative humidity, 31 per cent.

Fred Vendt, of Detroit, is registered at the Exchange. He has been traveling in the southwest for two years to recover his health, and has about succeeded. He will drive through the southern part of the territory this month, and will spend part of the winter season at Tucson and Phoenix.

The vaudeville company that was to come here and didn't, has gone to pieces at Albuquerque, two of the actors knocked down the manager of the show in attempting to attach his trunks, and there has been a pretty kettle of fish all around. The members of the company are getting out of town and to their several homes as best they can, without actually resorting to the passes.

Warden Bergmann, of the penitentiary, has a grim sense of humor. When Trujillo, the fugitive, was brought back the other night, it is understood that the warden made the fellow enter the premises of the penitentiary in the reverse way from which he had departed, viz., over the top of the prison wall from the outside to within "the castle's moat," while the convicts from within sang softly, "Come into the Garden, Maid." Trujillo wishes now that he had "stayed at home" instead of running away. After leaving the settlement at Santa Cruz, where he had hid up among the penitentes, he traveled through Mora county, and then went over into San Miguel county, where he had friends, and hoped to elude the vigilance of the officers.

Old timers say that the late Sergeant Major Stewart went through with General Doniphan on his celebrated march to the City of Mexico during the Mexican war, returning afterwards to Santa Fe with part of the Missouri command. It seems that a large part of the regiment on reaching Chihuahua on the march north, branched off towards Eagle pass, and did not return to this territory. Stewart was a valued scout and guide during the civil war, and his services in the interests of civilization and as against savagery were of inestimable value. Marcus Eldred says Stewart came out here early in the forties, while a mere youth, and then went back east to return as a member of General Doniphan's command.

Sergeant Breen, of troop E, relates an incident of Colonel Roosevelt that was very characteristic of the man. The colonel chanced near a spring where some 20 of his troopers had stopped, and brought his horse, in whose saddle bags was a small lunch. Roosevelt, before taking anything to eat himself, offered to share his scanty meal with each one of his men, but of course they would not touch it. So he had to eat it himself, and he was not long in getting away with it, either.

Under the new time card on the Santa Fe road, the west bound flyers reach Santa Fe at 10:05 o'clock Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. The east bound flyers arrive on Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and the mail for the east closes at 6:50 every evening. The first flyer mail going east leaves the Santa Fe postoffice at 6:50 p. m. next Tuesday, November 8.

Ed Richter, deputy sheriff in Taos county 18 years ago, came in last night over the Santa Fe and continued north this morning over the narrow gauge. Mr. Richter is now mining, and has gone to Denver on business. He says he came down through this country while an officer after one Frank Edwards, wanted in Colorado for killing a locomotive fireman at Conejos. Edwards was traced down through Albuquerque to El Paso, where he got in with a gang of thieves and was arrested. While attempting to break jail at El Paso he was shot and killed by the local officers.

Many letters are received almost daily by the different hotels and boarding houses in the city from people in the east asking for rooms and board for the winter, and longer. The indications are that a large number of health seekers and tourists will spend the next few months in Santa Fe.

The wind started in last night as though there was to be a violent change in the weather, and not a few people feared there was to be a storm. But "the storm blew over," and today has proved a lovely, ideal fall day.

Candidates and campaign workers of both parties are hard at work. Thanks to the fact of this county having a Republican administration and a Republican sheriff, there have been so far no disturbances and no rows, no intimidation and no bulldozing, but quite the reverse, everything is peaceful. This, as a prominent citizen and a Democrat remarked today, is such a change from Democratic methods under the Cunningham and other Democratic sheriff regimes, that he proposed to vote the Republican ticket on Tuesday, although he was more of a Democrat than a Republican in politics.

J. W. Akers, who is now a prosperous sheep raiser with a fine herd of sheep and some nice ranches in western Bernalillo county, has returned from a visit to his sheep range, looking well and healthy. He reports stock in very good condition in the Nacimiento country, and the outlook for the winter very good. Politically he says, that the three precincts in Bernalillo county, where he has spent the past two weeks, are solidly Republican, and he does not think that out of 300 votes in them over 25 Democratic votes will be polled.

The Fifteen club held its regular weekly meeting on Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Harroun. Papers were read on the following subjects: "Tolstoi—The Man and his Teachings," "Norway and its People and Mental Telegraphy." The next meeting will be with Mrs. Laughlin, Mrs. Boyle presiding.

Deputy Sheriff Huber arrested Eliseo and Tiburcio Trujillo last evening on a warrant for resisting an officer in trying to rescue Emilio Gutierrez from Constable Anaya, and placed them both in jail. They will think twice next time they are resisting an officer.

E. P. Chapin, of Troop E, Rough Riders, returned from the east last night, having visited his old home in Illinois in route from Montauk Point, where he was mustered out.

Desiderio Gonzales was arrested last evening by Deputy Sheriff Huber on a charge of assault and battery, but was subsequently released on giving a peace bond.

In this city everything is quite and orderly. But then there is a Republican city and county administration and that means much for law and order.

R. J. Ewing, of Glorieta, is in the city, stopping at the Bon-Ton.

Julian Ortiz, the Pojoaque merchant, is in the city on business, and stops at the Bon-Ton.

Professor Perez' band will render the following musical program in the plaza tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the weather permitting:

March—Pasta.....Clark
G. A. R. Patrol.....B. Bell
Waltz—Life is a Dream.....Zikoff
March—Semper Paratus.....Zikoff
Mexican Dance—Butterfly.....Zikoff
Polka—Los Panaderos.....M. Suarez
Galeop—San Winslow.....W. Lewis
G. W. Kessler and Frank Burton, two New York visitors in the city, are stopping at the Bon-Ton.

The Bon-Ton restaurant has two fine show windows artistically decorated, which are a credit to that popular place.
